
Court Reporting & Captioning

The Best Career You Never Heard Of!

Court reporters and captioners are in demand! There aren't enough of them. You will be welcomed into the field, and there will be good jobs aplenty waiting to be filled. A stenographic career is merit-based, a system that rewards hard work and competence. The opportunities in the field are unparalleled!

The National Court Reporters Association (NCRA) commissioned a study conducted by Ducker Associates in 2013. The Ducker report projected a nationwide shortage of court reporters by 2018, and it happened. Firm owners and courthouses nationwide can't keep up with the demand and need to hire more reporters. Captioning companies are feeling the pinch. The time is right for hardworking men and women to join this time-honored profession.

Court reporting and captioning — the career you've been waiting for!

Intrigued?

Try it out – for free! In just six sessions, Project Steno's Basic Training will tell you if you have the right stuff and, just as important, whether you would enjoy a stenographic career. Students tell us almost daily that attending and completing this introductory program was extremely helpful in their decision making.

Steno machines are available to borrow for participation in Project Steno's Basic Training.

For more information on this fascinating career, contact Tiffany Wooldridge at wooldridge.rpr.ccr@gmail.com or visit ProjectSteno.org.

PROJECTSTENO
Creating A Bright Future